

NeoVifta

— When Innovation Meets Health —

THE CHALLENGE

Climate change is not just an environmental crisis — it's a psychological one. 73% of 16-25 year-olds in France report eco-anxiety symptoms like sleep disorders, fatigue and panic attacks, yet this mental health impact remains largely overlooked and unsupported.

OUR SOLUTION

NeoVifta turns eco-anxiety into empowerment through education, community and action — an Instagram community and school toolkits today, growing into a gamified app where young people take on eco-challenges, get expert support, and track their real, collective impact.

HOW IT WORKS

Turning climate distress into everyday action, one challenge at a time
